Data-Basics Tapped by Nationwide Interior Contractors Inc. to Provide an Integrated Software Solution

Latest Version Includes New Time-Saving, Revenue-Tracking Features

CLEVELAND, OH—After searching for years to find a software solution to more efficiently run its business, Nationwide Interior Contractors—a national retail flooring contractor based in Bohemia, New York—has recently selected Data-Basics to unite its management and accounting departments under one, integrated system. Data-Basics, a leading provider of enterprise applications for the service and facilities management industries will have its signature SAM Pro Enterprise suite up and running at Nationwide Interior Contractors in early 2005.

Nationwide Interior Contractors, a multifaceted construction service provider to the retail and restaurant industries, has a portfolio of work that spans the United States. Its retail experience includes various up-scale chain retailers such as the Gap, Bed Bath & Beyond and Banana Republic. Its selection of SAM Pro Enterprise comes after years of searching for the right software to fit the unique facets of its business.

“I looked at different types of management software, but none had the management and dispatching capabilities that I was looking for,” said Tom Nissen, president of Nationwide Interior Contractors. “I saw the promise that we’d be able to make this work in our industry since we are a very service-oriented and time-oriented business.”

The company will implement the Quotemaster and TechAnywhere components of SAM Pro Enterprise, but its primary reasons for selecting the SAM Pro software was Data-Basics’ Rules-Based Management™ (RBM) technology. RBM proactively manages routine activities and enforces rules that have been predetermined by the customer to engage a series of alarms for action.

According to Nissen, “The fact that we could manage based on things that haven’t happened yet was one of the biggest selling points. It actually had self-automated management built in.”
